

FAN Support RFP—FAQ

Question: Are you only interested in hearing from agencies with proposals that strictly adhere to how the foundation has prescribed that the budget should be allocated?

Answer: There is some flexibility as well as certain things that we must see. We expect a minimum of $45,000 to be used for FAN programming—an applicant can propose more, of course, but we'd need to see a strong rationale and strategy for programming if that amount was less.

We also have a maximum on the indirect costs of 10% or $12,000 a year. Organizations can waive the indirect. If they do, they can allocate the $12,000 as they see fit to support their proposal.

We would be willing to consider proposals with Personnel costs higher than $50,000 if it fit within the overall parameters outlined above.